2. It's very important to ensure the human rights of athletes and coaches, adapt the convention (recommendation) of UN or the ILO as well as national legislation.
3. Sport tourism is a growth industry, particularly in attractive destinations where sport development is progressing steadily such as Indonesia, but also a lot of problems can be created (for example issues about the inspired fans - sport tourists who follow particular athletes and teams to international competition aboard). A framework of regulations is also needed in the field of tourism and leisure.
